

Aviation Explorers Post 2009 Make-Up Policy

In order to be eligible for the Career Achievement Award, you need to attend every Explorer event. Since conflicts may arise throughout the year, our post offers make-up sessions. These make-up sessions are governed by the following rules:

1. If you are absent from a session, notify the post advisor no later than noon the day following a meeting. Of course, if you know about your absence in advance, earlier notice is better!
2. The advisor will schedule a make-up session for you at his/her discretion, so it is to your benefit to attend the regularly scheduled meeting.
3. If you cannot attend the make-up time and date selected by the advisor, he/she does not have to schedule another time with you. Again, please try to attend the regularly scheduled meetings.
4. If you schedule a make-up session and do not attend, no more make-up sessions will be offered to you in the future and you will be ineligible for the Career Achievement Award. People are coming in to spend time with YOU, so please be respectful of their time.
5. If you have requested more than two make-up sessions for the current Explorer year, the post advisor may deny your request for further make-up sessions. These situations will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

If you have any questions about any of these guidelines, please contact your post advisor for more information. Thank you!
